

Truman Favors 90% Parity Farm Program

Demo Leaders Prefer Rival Anderson Plan

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The Senate digs into the controversial farm program again tomorrow, and apparently President Truman and the Democratic leadership are backing rival plans.

After a White House visit today, Rep. Cecil F. White (D-Calif.) said that Mr. Truman strongly favors 90 per cent parity price supports for basic crops.

But Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), the democratic leader in the Senate, has supported a bill by Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture. The Anderson bill provides for flexible price supports at 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is the price which is supposed to give the farmer a fair return on what he sells in relation to what he buys.

White said Mr. Truman doesn't plan to interfere with congress on the farm bill.

But, White said, "the president informed me he has been supporting 90 per cent all along and will continue to do so in accordance with his promises to the people in the last campaign."

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Ola) of the Senate agriculture committee told a reporter he plans to offer the Brannan plan as a substitute for the Anderson bill tomorrow.

But he said he may change his mind after talking with Mr. Truman on farm legislation tomorrow morning.

The Brannan plan—named after the secretary of agriculture—would allow the prices of perishables to drop to their natural market level. If this level were less than a prearranged would make up the difference determined "fair" return, the government.

Thomas said he may not ask for a vote on the Brannan plan. He said he may simply put it before the Senate, so that his agriculture committee can go into it thoroughly at the start of the next session.

The first chore for the Senate tomorrow: An amendment by Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) to keep out foreign agricultural products if their entry would conflict with this nation's farm aid programs.

According to Magnuson, there's no sense in spending millions to keep farm prices up, and then at the same time cut tariffs so that more farm products can come in and send farm prices down.

Soldier Pulls Pole Sitting Act, Lands In Dallas Jail

Dallas, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A 19-year-old soldier entertained a downtown crowd for 15 minutes last night with a pole sitting stunt outside his second-floor hotel window.

The show ended when the soldier made a flying leap to a guy wire which dropped him to the sidewalk, almost unhurt.

The soldier, who said he was Arthur Rudkin of Camp Hood, Tex., first stepped out an open window to a 6-inch ledge.

"Look out, he's going to jump," someone yelled. The proprietor telephoned police who ordered squad cars to the site.

Linwood Martin, Times-Herald pressman, heard the pole act and beat them to the scene, and with a camera.

The soldier was standing on the ledge, flattening himself against the wall.

"Then he spotted my camera and asked if I were from the newspapers," I said I was and told him to stand still. He did and I got a picture.

"Then the soldier climbed down on a horizontal pole. It must have been used to hang a sign on at one time. He just sat on the metal pipe about 20 feet over the sidewalk."

"After a while he suddenly dived—and I mean dived—out about 8 or 10 feet to a guy wire which runs from the end of the pole to the wall. He caught it and immediately sagged to the sidewalk. He fell on his side, hitting his head."

At Parkland hospital doctors said he didn't need hospitalization. Now the cops have him on charges of disturbing the peace.

LINESMAN BURNED CRITICALLY BY WIRE

Altona, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—An Illinois Power company linesman was critically burned today when he came in contact with a 6,900 volt current while working north of this Knox county town.

Harley E. Davis, Kewanee, was taken to a Kewanee hospital. His left hand was burned off and he suffered severe burns to the back of his neck.

2 Pilots End Record Flight At 1,124 Hours

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Pilots Woody Jongeward and Bob Woodhouse brought their faltering "City of Yuma" in to a perfect landing today after setting a new world endurance mark of 46 days, 20 hours and 18 minutes.

Sheriff's deputies estimated the crowd which greeted the fliers at more than 15,000. The Arizona national guard furnished an honor guard for the aviators as they walked unassisted from their plane to an automobile and from the automobile to the platform where they were received by Mayor W. J. Anderson.

As they brought their plane in for the landing, eight Navy Helicopters from Los Alamos, Calif., supplied an aerial blanket.

Among the first to greet the new champions were Dick Riedel and Bill Barris of Fullerton, Calif., the former time holders. Their record of 1,008 hours in the air, set last spring, was passed by the Yuma businessmen-aviators last Wednesday. Riedel and Barris flew here.

Johnson Blasts Service Battle

HITS SERVICE ROW

Sec. of Defense Johnson who told Rep. Vinson, chairman of the House Armed services committee, currently investigating Navy charges against the air force, that the controversy over air war strategy may endanger national security.

Man, 69, Wounded In Head, Walks 1/2 Mile For Help

Belleville, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Shot in the head by intruders, a 69-year-old farmer walked a half mile for aid early today and then successfully underwent an operation.

He is Peter Obernagel, a bachelor, who lives five miles southeast of here.

Physicians removed a .22 caliber bullet from his scalp and said he would recover.

Obernagel told police two young men appeared at his farm home this morning and asked to use his telephone. Without warning, he said, one of the pair fired five shots at him. Only one of the bullets found its mark.

The farmer was unable to give any motive for the shooting.

State To Appeal Court Ruling On Liquor Licenses

Chicago, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The state is going to appeal a court ruling that the Illinois Liquor Control commission must issue licenses to retailers who have a local license.

Assistant Attorney General R. C. Eardly gave notice of the appeal today.

And until the court ruling is settled, the commission will not act on cases involving gambling convictions. The commission said today it will hold such cases "in abeyance," until the state supreme court rules on the question.

Superior Court Judge Joseph Gruber ruled recently that if a retailer has a local license, the state also must issue him a license.

His ruling followed a commission announcement that it would crack down on taverns where gambling laws had been violated and refuse to renew their licenses. A number of tavernkeepers sought to test the commission's powers.

Probers Hear That B-36 Can Be Vulnerable

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson said tonight the raging controversy over air war strategy can do "grave damage to our national security."

Johnson fired a letter to Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services committee at the close of a day's testimony in which naval experts said that the Russians surely can detect and blast the air force's B-36 atom bomb carrier out of the sky. They also said the atom bomb is not as destructive as many persons think it is anyway.

Johnson challenged Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), who has sharply criticized the secretary's navy fund cutback methods, to call at once former President Herbert Hoover, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and others to testify in the House Armed Services committee hearings.

Vinson, committee chairman, told a reporter after getting Johnson's letter that the secretary will be called before the House committee.

"We will call anybody who will help us out," Vinson said. "We will give them all a hearing, but not in one day."

The defense chief, apparently stung by digs during the hearings, fired a letter along with detailed information that Chairman Vinson had suggested the committee force Johnson to supply. He told Vinson that the same facts had already been sent to him last January.

Johnson suggested to Vinson that he call at the earliest practicable date Hoover, Eisenhower, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff.

Johnson didn't say what they would testify. The implication is they would back up the secretary in his decision to make a navy cutback of $233,000,000 in an effort to save $800,000,000 in this year's funds, not yet appropriated.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Mayor James A. Hendrick of Decatur said tonight many Illinois cities will have to "reduce services further" unless the legislature helps them solve revenue problems.

Hendrick said Decatur had cut its budget for the coming year to the bone and that the situation next year will be "far more serious."

He said that the Illinois Municipal League, discussed Decatur's budgetary troubles as the league opened its 36th annual convention.

He held a press conference that other cities are in the same boat as Decatur.

Plumbing and electrical inspection services were "reluctantly reduced" by Decatur councilmen in addition to the curtailments in fire and police protection, he said.

Benton, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—State's Attorney Joe Hickman said today he has charged a former preacher with rape and bastardy in connection with an alleged attack upon a 14-year-old member of his congregation.

Hickman identified the man as James L. Pettit 52, who he said was ousted without explanation last week as pastor of the Thompsonville Baptist church.

Pettit, who is married, was held in the Franklin county jail in lieu of $7,000 bond.

Thompsonville is a community of about 400 and is 11 miles southeast of here.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The state is going to appeal a court ruling that the Illinois Liquor Control commission must issue licenses to retailers who have a local license.

Assistant Attorney General R. C. Eardly gave notice of the appeal today.

And until the court ruling is settled, the commission will not act on cases involving gambling convictions. The commission said today it will hold such cases "in abeyance," until the state supreme court rules on the question.

Damage Heavy As High Winds Blast Midwest

By the Associated Press
Winds howling across the Midwest at speeds up to 95 miles an hour spread heavy damage Monday and boosted weather deaths to at least 12. Damage in harvest fields was widespread.

In the East, however, the risk was heat prostration as Oct. 10 mercury records fell like tennpins. Newark, N.J., had a sizzling 92.

The Northeastern states were expected to get a somewhat weakened taste of the windy weather Tuesday. The cause of the heavy winds was development of an intense low pressure area over Northern Minnesota. It was a complex result of temperature extremes which gave the Midwest summery weather while the upper plains and northwest had chill and snow. The warm air from the edge of the plains cold front shot upward and dissipated in high altitude storms, forming something similar to a giant, inverted whirlpool hundreds of miles in diameter.

In Minnesota, near the low pressure center, the winds were strongest. Speeds at Minneapolis were a sustained 70 miles an hour during the afternoon, with gusts up to 95 miles an hour measured at Wold Chamberlain airport which was closed down at 12:30 p.m. (CST).

The airport reopened 2 1/2 hours later. A 60-foot chimney was blown down on a wing of the Sheridan Hotel in Minneapolis, injuring four women, three of them seriously. Listed in poor condition were Janice Langlie, 22, Norwalk, Conn.; Patricia Ann Sauter, 20, each Chicago, Ind., and Gayle Keene, 20, Frostproof, Fla.

They were attending an airline hostess school. Mrs. F. W. Gordon a permanent resident of the hotel, was less seriously hurt.

In South Dakota, where high winds began Sunday, two men were killed by flying beams. A 77-year-old watchman died at Sioux Falls Monday and an 18-year-old youth at lead Sunday.

Stands of corn awaiting harvest were flattened in southern Minnesota and Iowa, where winds ranged up to 80 miles an hour. Countless thousands of bushels of corn were scattered as dried, brittle stalks flattened before the blow.

Illinois News Briefs
Jail May Be Used
Energy, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The jail in this Williamson county community hasn't been used in 20 years, but it may be before long. Energy last week employed its first full time marshal in 28 years.

Mayor Millard Brown explained the appointment and news signs on Energy's 30 mile speed limit were aimed at "protecting our children while they're crossing the highway."

Bonus Checks
Chicago, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The Illinois Service Recognition Board mailed 100 checks totaling $4,145.17 in soldier bonus awards Friday.

The board now has sent out 888, 548 checks totaling $312,278.106. The checks included 440,559, in Cook county and 427,989 downstate.

Pigeon Smokes In Bed
Wyoming, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—A pigeon gave an unscheduled demonstration today for fire prevention week.

The bird carried a lighted cigarette into its nest in a room where cable is stored at the Illinois Commercial telephone company building. The Wyoming fire department extinguished the blaze and damage was slight.

Wyoming is in Stark county.
Dies Of Thrombosis
Macomb, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Catherine L. Hainline, 91, widow of W. H. Hainline, founder of the Macomb Daily Journal, died of cerebral thrombosis today.

Survivors include a grandson, William H. Rudolph, publisher of the Journal. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Herrin Sets Curfew
Herrin, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Chief of Police Odus Hughes today invoked a 10:30 p.m. curfew for Herrin youngsters under 18.

He said the action was taken because "there's been too many car pilferings." Chief Hughes added: "If any parents wonder where their children are after 10:30 they might find them in the city jail."

Captured For Theft
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Two Indiana youths were captured by Sheriff's deputies last night following the theft of four guns from a farmer's home southwest of Springfield.

Assistant State's Attorney Lawrence Swinney said Robert Darnell, 17, of Lafayette, Ind., and Jack McCord, 15, of Monitor, Ind., admitted in a statement that the weapons were stolen for a planned series of filling station holdups.

Vote Selves Pay Cuts
Johnston City, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The mayor and aldermen of this Williamson county community have voted themselves pay cuts. Mayor K. Neil Thurmond decided he could get along with $5 less a month and the aldermen sacrificed $10 each monthly. The money cut from their salaries Thursday will help pay a third policeman just added to the force.

Women Take Over Salem
Salem, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The women will take over Salem Saturday, filling jobs from mayor to fireman. It will be in connection with a National Week for the business and professional women's club.

Indict Two Youths For Auto Larceny
Nashville, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Two Herod, Ill. youths, caught in a field near here Sept. 10 after an all night hunt, were indicted today by a Washington county grand jury on charges of larceny of a motor vehicle.

They are James T. Eichorn, 21, and Charles Hayes, 19. State's Attorney Wilbert Holzh said they were wanted on similar charges in St. Clair and Hardin counties.

Tree Fractures Skull
Joliet, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—A 50 mile an hour wind toppled a ten foot apple tree on Mrs. Hatfield Fleming today, fracturing her skull.

Mrs. Fleming, 48, of 235 Davidson street, was visiting in a neighbor's yard at the time.

Government Will Try To Break Steel Strike

High Court Refuses To Review May Trial

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Andrew J. May, wartime chairman of the House military affairs committee, was refused a Supreme Court review of his conviction on conspiracy and bribery charges today.

Attorneys for the 74-year-old May had contended that if his sentence of eight to 24 months in prison were carried out it would result in "the destruction of a fine public servant of stainless reputation (and) it may further result in his death."

The court also turned down pleas by Texas and Louisiana for dismissal of a suit in which the federal government seeks to establish its control over oil-rich submerged lands off their coasts.

The Justice department is seeking a ruling similar to that which the court handed down in the case of California—that the federal government has paramount rights over the so-called tidelands.

After the formal session at which it disposed of these and other cases, the court listened to arguments on the validity of the Communist oath requirement of the Taft-Hartley labor act.

CIO attorneys contended the provision is unconstitutional. It requires that union officials must sign non-Communist affidavits before their unions can employ the services of the National Labor Relations Board.

Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, replying for the government, told the court congress could have gone even further. He declared it would be within its rights to require such oaths of all union members.

The court remained silent today, its second session of the new term, on most of the important appeals awaiting its action.

Among these is a petition by John L. Lewis to have set aside $1,420,000 in fines levied against his United Mine Workers for defying court orders in a 1948 walkout.

Ching Will Arrange Meeting
Pittsburgh, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The government is going to try and break up the steel strike deadlock.

U. S. Conciliator Director Cyrus Ching said today he is arranging informal meetings with leading steel companies and the striking CIO United Steelworkers.

It is the first peace move since the nationwide steel shutdown 10 days ago in a war over free pensions. The government made three futile efforts to settle the dispute before the walkout.

Moves In Coal Strike
Ching already has moved into the four-week coal strike. He got United Mine Worker chief John L. Lewis and mine operators to agree on talking contract again this week.

The steel action had been expected as strike effects spread. But industry leader United States Steel Corporation, spearheading the labor fight with steelworker President Philip Murray, said it had not yet been notified of the government move. Comment was declined.

There also was no immediate reaction from union sources. Both sides have held doggedly to their pre-strike positions—the union for free insurance and pensions recommended by a presidential board; the industry for welfare benefits with workers helping to foot the bill.

Arranging Schedule
Ching's brief statement in Washington said he is arranging a schedule of "separate and informal conferences with representatives of some of the leading steel companies and with representatives of the United Steelworkers of America."

Ching added: "The purpose of these meetings will be to consider the impediments which exist to a prompt settlement of the steel industry dispute, and to ascertain in what ways the service might best contribute to such a settlement."

Ching's move came as the steelworkers announced two more firms have signed on union terms.

They are Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company near Pittsburgh, and the Massey-Harris Company of Buffalo, N. Y. Massey-Harris is a steel fabricating firm employing 2,000. Kelsey Hayes has 650 workers.

Both companies agreed to pay workers a 10-cent pension and insurance package without employee contributions. This conforms with the presidential board recommendations.

Wedding Party To Be Guests At 50th Year Celebration
Pesotum, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. James Forrestal observe their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow, the priest who married them and their two attendants will be honored guests.

The priest who married them in St. John's church at Bellflower 50 years ago now is Msgr. Maurice Sammon of St. Bernard's church, Peoria.

Their attendants were Mrs. Josie Whalen, a friend, of Thawville, and Ed Forrestal, the bridegroom's brother, of Ivesdale.

Joe and Joanna Forrestal of Ivesdale, brother and sister of the bridegroom, who attended the wedding also will attend tomorrow—as will Mr. and Mrs. James Forrestal's six children and 11 grandchildren.

A special Mass will be held at the home, followed by a golden wedding breakfast at the Innman hotel in nearby Champaign.

Expected Cut In Auto Production Is Now Under Way
Detroit, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The expected production curtailment in the auto industry is under way.

Overtime work that figured so largely in the output records of recent weeks is being cut off. Here and there some smaller factories are cutting back assembly plant schedules.

Last week the industry built 129,669 vehicles. That was a drop of about 3,000 from the previous week. However, the week's effort brought the 1949 production total to date to 5,005,911 units.

Steel, of course, is an immediate concern to the car makers right now. It would be an even greater worry but for the fact a seasonal drop in production is going to ease the industry's requirements.

The trade paper Automotive News estimates that car builders' steel inventories are sufficient for the assembling of another 600,000 cars and trucks. That's slightly more than a month's output at the current production level.

U.S. Agrees To Make Tariff Cuts On 44% Of Imports
Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The United States has agreed to make tariff concessions on approximately 44 per cent of its imports from 10 foreign countries in an effort to boost world trade, the State department disclosed tonight.

In return, the foreign nations promised to reduce or maintain their present duties on about 45 per cent of their imports from the U.S.

State department officials cautioned that the full benefits of foreign concessions to the United States—in the form of expanded markets—will not be apparent for a considerable time. Most foreign nations have the right to restrict imports of American goods so as to conserve shrinking dollar reserves.

The American concessions at present are more important, these officials said, since they will enable friendly governments to boost their sales in American markets and earn more dollars to keep their economies stable.

The U.S. concessions covered about 350 key items from abroad ranging from picture postcards to steel ingots.

AN ACTRESS FOR SENATOR?
Helen Gahagan Douglas, former actress and present congresswoman from a Los Angeles district, wants to be senator from California and the men folks are going to have a hard time stopping her.
She will run for the Democratic nomination in 1950 against Sheridan Downey, who is no bargain in the senate, though he has the California recipe for success—give anything to everybody. Mrs. Douglas is fairly good at that herself.
She will be labeled, of course, a glamour candidate, and she comes nearer qualifying for the title than anyone we could think of. Clare Luce Boothe who was a congresswoman from Connecticut, was known as such, but she wrote plays and did not act in them.
Mrs. Douglas seems to have a sincere infatuation for all the expensive ideas that her party has fallen for. Besides, she is running in a state that likes screwball ideas and is the glamour capital of the world. We don't see how they can beat her, in her own party, at least.

GANGSTER STATE SET UP
The Communists have proclaimed their state in east Germany, claiming it represents the whole country and threatening dire things to anyone who stands in their way.
This was expected. It is according to the Communist pattern. Whether they will get away with it depends chiefly on the attitude of the German people. If the Germans show the same anti-Communist toughness they displayed during the Berlin airlift argument, the Communists will be sunk. They stopped the Red bulldozing efforts cold and made them call off the blockade.
Since these are natural Communist tactics, this latest move is not generally regarded as holding the threat of war; not for the time being, at least.
In the long run, there will be trouble. The democracies can accept no German solution that does not permit an honest expression of opinion and the Communist creed does not permit such an expression. That leaves the door wide open for intrigue and violence.

Credit Buying Increases Hit Peak Volume

New York, Oct. 10.—(P)—Buying on time is at a new high. This great American institution plays its part in the automobile industry's continuing prosperity and in the return of the home appliance industry to happy days. It's also reported on the increase in areas where many customers are out on strike and aren't buying for cash.
The peak volume of installment credit during the summer recovery is doubtless tied in with other phases of the nation's business and financial status just before strikes halted the basic industries of steel and coal.
Bank loans to businessmen are increasing. Manufacturers' sales are up sharply, and department store sales are up.

replenishing of stocks on the upgrade once more. Industrial production had rebounded from its July low. And government agencies stress that retail sales are holding up remarkably well in unit volume, although off in dollar volume because of lower prices.
Buying on time increased briskly this summer after federal curbs on credit were removed. It jumped $282 million during August to a new high of $9.6 billion. This was $1.6 billion higher than a year ago.
The federal reserve board, which used to set strict rules in installment buying, reports that buying cars on time give the total its biggest boost. The board says credit against autos today nearly $2.8 billion; credits against refrigerators, television sets, furniture and the like $2.5 billion; and installment loans by financial institutions rather than retailers stand at nearly $4.4 billion.

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL OPEN TO WOMEN
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 10.—(P)—The doors of Harvard law school will be open to women for the first time next year.
Dean Erwin N. Griswold announced last night that a "small number" of women graduated from accredited colleges will be eligible for admission to the 132-year-old school in 1950.

PRESENTED WITH $100 BOND

Johnny Desmond (left) and Patsy Lee (right) singers on the Breakfast Club, were on hand in the Sarah Siddons Walk of the Ambassador East Hotel, Chicago, for the presentation to LeRoy Rafter, 22, (center) of the Illinois School for the Deaf, Jacksonville, of first prize in the statewide poster contest in behalf of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.
Rafter, whose winning poster earned him a $100 U. S. Savings Bond and a medal from the Disabled American Veterans, has been deaf since an accident when he was three years of age. In addition, as a result of another accident in 1941, he lost his right arm below the elbow, facts which were unknown to the judges, according to Frank Annunzio, State Director of Labor.
One hundred and ninety-five posters were entered in the finals, selected from more than 1,600 entries. In speaking of the winner's understanding of the problem depicted in the poster, Annunzio stated:
"It's ability that counts—not disability."

Thousands Thrilled By Aerial Stunts; 'Chute Jumper Lands In Tree

Fred Wharton and his Jacksonville Flying Service scored a hit with the Cole Brothers Air Circus which performed before a record turnout of flying enthusiasts over the local airport Sunday afternoon.
When Wharton was asked to estimate the size of the huge crowd he defined it as "thousands." The number of persons who viewed the show from places other than those designed for them made a near estimate impossible, he pointed out. Persons who actually drove into the grounds numbered around 5,000. Many thousands more witnessed the breathtaking spectacles from the road and adjacent fields.
About 50 planes, carrying professional observers from points as distant as Peoria, Kewanee and Bradford, landed at the airport, Wharton said. Cars and planes were over an hour clearing the field after the show.

DISLIKES DECEPTION
Belle Wayne, above, a contestant in the recent "Miss New Orleans" contest, charges that at least half the bathing beauties in the contest wore artificial padding to enhance their natural charm. Belle believes it's okay to fool the public sometimes, but not in contests. She never does, she says.

Four Brothers Perform
The four Cole Brothers, Duane, Marion, Lester and Arnold, together with Lloyd Stoner provided thrills aplenty for the tremendous crowd.
The circus got underway with a thrill when Stoner parachuted from 1,000 feet and was carried into a tree, located north of the runway, by the high wind. He was knocked unconscious but recovered immediately and came back to take part in the daring man-on-the-wing stunt. He was wired to the top wing of Duane Cole's plane and stood while the pilot looped and circled the field.
A drunk-flying act by Marion Cole carried an element of surprise combined with excellent flying. Other acts included dead-stick landings, down-wind take offs and a wide repertoire of turns, twists and dives.
A unique feature in the Cole circus was added with the use of smoke trailers which enabled the crowd to follow every stunt easily.
Smashup on Highway
Except Stoner's tree-top landing, no mishaps occurred. Only accident of the day came at the conclusion of the show when three cars collided on highway 67 when leaving the airport.
Automobiles owned by Harold E. Pence of Winchester, James R. Benton, 1406 West Lafayette and Clifford Charlesworth, 235 East Michigan Avenue were involved. Helen White, who was riding with Charlesworth, received very minor injuries. The cars were towed into town by the Lukeman wrecker.
State Patrolmen Keller and Hinds were on the scene immediately and reported that the front ends of Benton and Charlesworth's cars were damaged while Pence's auto was smashed in the rear.
An ambulance, supplied by Tom Cooney, stood by at the races. Jacksonville fire chief Lonergan furnished a crash truck.

PROWLER DISCOVERED IN BUCKINGHAM
London, Oct. 10.—(P)—A prowler was discovered in a Buckingham Palace bedroom a few hours before King George VI returned there today from a vacation in Scotland.
Scotland Yard officials said the 26-year-old prowler has been placed under medical observation. They confirmed that he had climbed over the wall into the palace grounds but gave no further details.
SURGICAL PATIENT
Mrs. Harold Hills, 236 West Greenwood avenue, has entered Passavant hospital for surgery.
The long-tailed tit, a small bird of Great Britain, was almost 5,000 feathers in its nest.

Boyle's Column The Sun Comes Up In Manhattan

New York.—(P)—The nice thing about the sun is that it only comes up once a day.
Here along Broadway, where people grind their dreams underfoot on the street of failure, few folks see the sun unless it has been tentatively approved by the Federal Communications Commission.
The dawn may come up out of Jamaica like China across the bay—but it has to have a commercial appeal, a sort of sponsored madness. Actually the day erupts in a blue and gold surprise. It is like a reluctant flower with a burst of kindness in its petals. It comes so soon it bowls you off your feet, because you aren't prepared.
Morning in Manhattan
I am talking about morning in a place called Manhattan, where the wise and the weak folk of a confused world mingle—and are mangled.
The famous folk by this hour have amused the mass, had their herring or bacon and eggs, traded the rich gossip of the inner fraternity of entertainment, and gulped sleep—or the sleeping pill that leads to sleep.
Broadway and its side streets belong to the stranger and the garbage man, banging into ringing cans and the unbeaten steak fragments that fatten New Jersey hogs.
The sound is a chime of prosperity.
It rings the hidden pigeons awake. Where they hide at night, it is hard to know. But somehow they always awake to a feast of plenty, these feathered, importunate pilgrims of Manhattan.
Someone on the way home spills a sack of popcorn—deliberately—and hours after he has gone the sleepy birds flutter down to collect his contribution. If the pigeons picked a mayor it would be someone unknown to anybody but them. It would be the man with the popcorn. He elects himself.
The people themselves—all workmen and jaded playboys who keep a city alive between dawn and dusk—wonder sometimes what they have done to justify belonging to the human race.
The pigeons have a simpler ethic. Their loyalty is to the nest and the eggs, not the largesse of that strange two-legged opportunist—man.
So every blue-gold dawn is a trumpet to a fresh adventure. Whether that adventure lies in old Manhattan or the widening world we work in is another matter. You can take it any way you want to, but you can't pass on the chaos of civilization either to the pigeons or the sun.

The sun has its own daily responsibility, but the pigeons have no sense of guilt. They wing where they wish to the goal set for them before they were eggs.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Financial trouble, in-laws, and the housing situation have conspired to bog down Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan. Besides, Tod seems unable to forget his former wife. Then an old friend, Rick Morris, in-laws, Tod and Jenny to visit his home in Centerville after Tod graduates from college. Tod thinks Rick is in love with Jenny and he is rather when Rick suggests that, in view of no place to live, Tod and Jenny can live in their guest cottage instead of going back to the trailer camp where they had been living.

XIX
THE cottage, originally built as a caretaker's house, had been used later by Rick's father for his study.

Jenny bought colorful paper drapes for the windows and painted some second-hand chairs and an old kitchen table bright yellow for the kitchen. They moved their few belongings from the trailer, plus the old walnut marble-topped bureau and the gategleg table and antique chair Nina was storing for them. The cottage was small, but once it was furnished and the curtains up, they were delighted with it.

Then Tod got a job with a distributor for farm implements. It didn't pay so much to start, but there was a promotion promised.

They celebrated in appropriate fashion with a party. Tod, using Rick's car, brought Nina down on a Saturday evening to spend the week-end. The four of them went swimming, had a picnic, and then as soon as the babies were put to bed, the four played bridge until late. It was like old times. Tod bunched that night with Rick at the big house and Nina slept at the cottage with Jenny.

Nina and Jenny lay awake until almost 2 talking. Jenny was so excited about Tod's new job, and she was thrilled with the cottage too. "It's wonderful how nice Mrs. Morris has been, Nina. She's such a help with the twins!"

"You surely aren't planning to stay here at the cottage!" Nina said.

"Only until Tod can find an apartment or house within our means."

"It'll be a problem all right," Nina said, "but I think I'd—"

"You'd what?" Jenny asked sharply.

"I wouldn't want you to—take me wrong or anything like that," Nina said. "But I think it would be best for all concerned if you moved back to Capitol City as soon as possible, even though it is a help for Mrs. Morris to take care of the babies so much."

"You know Rick's in love with you," Nina said. She paused and then added, "You aren't mad are you, hon, for me saying it?"

"Mad? No, of course not," Jenny said. She was grateful for the darkness that hid the red creeping across her cheeks. "Only you're wrong—being silly, Nina—or jealous."

One of the babies whimpered in his sleep and she got out of bed and padded around to his bassinet.

Nina sighed. "I'll admit I wanted Rick to fall for me, but I gave up long ago. You and Tod have been throwing him at me ever since last fall, but he doesn't see anyone but you, Jenny."

Jenny broke in. "Rick is Tod's best friend and he's been so good to me, but it isn't anything like that, I know."

"Just the same," Nina insisted. "I think the best thing you and Tod can do is move back to Capitol City."

Jenny lay awake long after Nina's regular breathing indicated she was asleep. She remembered Tod's accusation: "Rick's in love with you." They had quarreled over it. And now Nina had brought it up. In some odd way both of them seemed to blame her. For something that didn't exist! Just because Rick was gentle and helpful and adored the babies, they had to jump, to a crazy conclusion that he was in love with her.

Rick had gone to work at the Centerville Trust Company. The job had been waiting for him as soon as he graduated. His grandfather had founded the bank, and now that his father was dead, Rick was supposed to work into the leadership of the institution. Tod envied Rick's security; no worries, a good job just waiting for him to step into it.

Perhaps it was because the Duncans always had to struggle that the things money would buy were so important to Tod.

Jenny herself was contented. The babies were sweet and healthy and utterly fascinating.

Tod had to catch the 6:45 bus in the morning and the evening bus didn't get down until 6:30, which left him little time at home through the week, but he had Saturday afternoons off, which didn't make it too bad. They would have liked to have a car, but they didn't have money enough for a down payment.

At first Tod was interested in his job and excited at meeting new people, but as the summer wore on, the job became less interesting and more routine, and the commuting more tiresome in the heat and dust of midsummer. He would come home worn out, hungry and hot to find Jenny fresh as a daisy after a quick 5 o'clock swim in the park pool with Rick.

Jenny sensed, after the first few times she talked about the swim with Rick, that it irritated Tod. So she didn't mention it any more. He wasn't too fond of swimming himself and that's why she had gone early.

She tried instead to act interested in his day, asking about his work, and the people he had met. But he nearly always came home in a disagreeable mood. She wondered why it was so difficult for Tod to adjust himself, to accept the small difficulties of life in a good-natured way. She told him that one evening.

"Why can't you just accept things as they are and not grumble about them all the time?"

His eyes blazed suddenly.

Why: Devaluation Is No Panacea

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Newfeatures Writer

Washington—The cold arithmetic of American trade with Europe doesn't leave you quivering ecstatic about Europe's currency moves as U. S. government leaders sounded. There are some terrific hurdles for Europe to take, and a bitter pill or two seems inevitable for Americans. Here's why:

The British devalued their money—and other nations followed—for one primary purpose: To sell their goods here at lower prices with the hope of selling more, and hence of earning more American dollars.

But how much more must they sell? For what reason? Paul Hoffman, director of the Marshall Plan, told a press conference that Europeans must sell $2,500,000,000 more goods here a year. He added that would only be one per cent of the gross national production, now about $250,000,000,000 a year.

But our foreign trade experts in the Commerce Department think Hoffman's figure was too low. They think Europe will have to sell nearly $4,000,000,000 more a year here. The Europeans' problem is to sell as much here as they buy, just to cover current expenses. If they want to pay their debts here they would naturally have to sell more.

The first half of this year the U. S. shipped Europe goods worth $2,296,000,000 and bought from Europe goods worth only $400,000,000. That means Europe was in the red by $1,896,000,000 for just the first six months of this year.

In July both the stuff the U. S. bought and sold to Europe slipped in value. But the stuff it bought slipped farther than the stuff it sold. So Europe was sliding backward.

Suppose, however, as the trade experts do, that the pace of the first half of the year continued through the whole year. By the end of December America would have sold Europe goods worth $4,592,000,000 and it would have shipped us goods worth $800,000,000.

For the whole year it would mean that Europe bought goods worth $3,792,000,000 more than it sold here. Or to put it another way, it would have to sell four times as much goods here as it does to even accounts. Few Commerce Department experts think that Europe can jump its sales here four times in the next two years—the time left before the Marshall Plan ends. They do point out a few factors which may narrow the deficit.

The first half of the year American tourists spent $300,000,000 in Europe. That may double by the end of the year. But it is not clear European profit. Europeans have to spend a good deal of travel money here because so many of the international meetings are now here.

Now that Europe has devalued its money, American dollars can buy European goods at lower prices. That is expected to cause a quick rise in American orders for European goods. So Europeans will be on the road to earning more of our dollars. But the Commerce Department experts point out that will mean that more European goods will appear in American stores. Will Americans buy European goods in preference to American? If they do, it will mean that some American factories will have to lay off workers. Or can Americans keep right on buying as much American goods as they have and buy the increased European goods expected in our stores too?

What's more, since European money is "cheaper," it means that Europe will have to pay more for what they buy here. Will Europe begin to cut its buying here? Will that mean that factories and farms and mines will have to lay off workers? Or will American business leadership be wise enough to see that what Europe doesn't buy is priced right enough so that Americans will buy up the margin?

It will take months, maybe a year, before we know the answers to those questions.

CIGAR BAND COLLECTORS SMOKE LITTLE

Philadelphia—(AP)—There was a noticeable lack of smoke at the annual convention of the International Cigar Band Society, President Grover Greasby, of Waukesha, Wis., explained that about 80 per cent of the Society's members don't smoke.

President Greasby, a middle-aged mechanic, and his wife brought along what they called their master collection, dating back to 1900. The collection includes eight complete sets bearing the likeness of U. S. Presidents. Mrs. Greasby also has a complete set of German rulers, from 1714 to the late Kaiser; a set of 89 flags of the world, and a set of 50 state shields. Another set displayed by Mrs. Greasby was imprinted with the faces of playing cards. There was enough variety for one complete deck.

Greasby said members get their bands by swapping or writing direct to manufacturers. Some buy cigars and give them away after removing the bands.

War On Children's Diseases Shows Splendid Progress

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Many of the common childhood diseases which in civilized times have struck down so many are being conquered. Diphtheria, which took so many lives a generation or so ago, is now rare, thanks to preventive immunizations, better treatments, and improved public health measures.

Scarlet fever appears to be a less serious disease than it was, both with regard to frequency and to the harmful complications. In this case the good results appear to be caused, partly at least, to immunization and better treatment with antitoxin and penicillin.

The campaign against diphtheria shows what can be done by organized effort in the child health field. The practice of early immunization of children against diphtheria has continued since 1930 and has resulted in the extraordinary record of not a single death from that disease among the residents in 40 large American cities in 1947.

Hopeful Outlook
In the case of measles, there may be some factor which we do not know about responsible for some of the improvement. The fine record in cutting down the deaths from that disease is a little hard to explain because, until recently at least, there was no very good way of preventing or treating this infection. Still better results in preventing deaths and other complications from measles, however, can now be expected.

The results today with these important diseases of infancy and childhood are most gratifying. It seems definitely possible now that they can be conquered altogether and eliminated in the future as a serious cause of death or dangerous complications.

The week of October 9 to 15, having been designated as Fire Prevention Week, members of the Jacksonville Fire Department will start making their semi-annual inspection of business houses, churches, schools and hospitals on Tuesday morning, continuing the work throughout the week.

City officials Monday issued a statement requesting that all business men and homeowners cooperate in the clean up work and help in keeping down the fire loss in Jacksonville.

According to Chief Charles Lonergan the fire loss in Jacksonville in 1948 was $22,000, an exceptionally low figure considering the size of the city. This year the loss for the first nine months has been $15,000. It is hoped that with the continued cooperation of all citizens the fire loss in the city can be kept below $20,000 for the year.

Members of the Jacksonville Fire Department have agreed to volunteer their services in making inspections of the business houses and other buildings. The off crew fire men will make the inspections.

Homeowners are especially requested to cooperate in the fire prevention by cleaning up their basements and attics removing fire hazards.

Every citizen should join in the movement to remove fire hazards from the city and thus save extensive fire losses and probably the lives of its residents.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

QUESTION: What is the cause of a gnawing sensation in the abdomen.

ANSWER: It is impossible to guess at the cause of this condition without knowing more about the symptoms. Not only must the symptoms be carefully analyzed, but this could be a sign of some condition of the intestines or stomach which would require X-rays and perhaps other studies in order to make a diagnosis.

THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT on 30-Day Test of Camel Smokers...

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

YES, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days. All the smokers in this nationwide test averaged from 1 to 2 packages of Camels per day. Their throats were carefully examined each week. And from coast to coast, the reports of the doctors were the same: NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

"Did I enjoy the test?" Noted archer Howard Hill: "Camel mildness is a familiar story to me. I've smoked Camels for years. A great cigarette!"

Famed skier Georgette Miller: "My first pack of Camels won me over! I never smoked a cigarette so mild!"

Vic Scott, outboard racer: "I go right along with those doctors' reports. By my test, Camels sure are mild!"

Mary L. Walsh, saleswoman: "I like a mild cigarette. Camels are the mildest cigarette I ever smoked!"

"Every puff of my 30-Day Test was enjoyable! Camels have a flavor that is always welcome." Doris Reilly, housewife.

"I'm a Camel smoker. For a milder, better-tasting cigarette, Camel is the answer!" Steel worker Cyril Byrne.

Bank teller Cecelia Garland made her own 30-Day Test. "It certainly proved Camel mildness to me," she reports.

"My 30-Day Test steered me right. Camels are mild—they've got the flavor!" Bill Holland, auto-racing champion.

"Camels taste so good—I was thrilled to find them mild and cool." Mrs. Llewellyn Lord, Jr., socialite.

"I've tried many brands. There's no cigarette like a Camel. They're a real smoke!" R. M. Elliot, merchandiser.

"I enjoyed every puff of my Camel 30-day test! I didn't need my doctor's report to know that Camels are wonderfully mild!"

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Oct. 10.—(P)—There was little variation from a steady tone throughout most of the livestock market today. Some slaughter cat-held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Smith. The new officers are: Mrs. Doyle Taylor, chairman; Mrs. Jesse Petefish, vice chairman; and Mrs. Johnnie Williamson, secretary-treasurer.

Most good and choice butcher hogs sold from $16.50 to 18.50, the day's peak price while sows took $15.50 to $17.25, a few reaching $17.50. Clearance was good.

Most choice steers sold from $27.50 to $34.50, a few loads merited $35.00 to $37.25, and one load grading choice to prime topped at $35.50. Good to low-choice kinds were $27.50 to $32.00. Good and choice heifers fetched $24.00 to $30.00, a load of choice material reaching $31.50. Good beef cows ranged from $16.25 to $18.00, medium and good sausage bulls from $17.50 to $19.50, and medium to choice vealers from $23.00 to $27.50.

Native and fed woolled western lambs sold narrowly between $23.00 and $23.25 for good and choice offerings, and fed shorn lambs topped at the latter figure also. Ewes topped at $9.50.

Receipts on sale included 13,000 hogs, 12,000 cattle, 500 calves and 2,500 sheep.

17.00-23.00; few good 25.00; common and medium cows 14.00-15.25; good sows 15.50-16.00; canners and cutters 10.50-14.00; medium and good bulls 15.50-17.25; cutter and common bulls 13.00-15.00; good and choice vealers 27.00-33.00; common and medium 17.00-26.00.

Sheep, 4,500; market not established.

City Officials Leave For State Convention

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland and City Attorney W. L. Pay went to Springfield Monday afternoon to attend opening sessions of the Illinois Municipal League 36th annual convention, which will continue Tuesday and Wednesday. Other city officials will go to Springfield Tuesday to attend and participate in the sessions.

Mayor Hoagland is first vice president of the Illinois Municipal League, and will preside at the final session Wednesday. Mayor James A. Hedrick of Decatur is serving as president this year.

Because of the convention the Jacksonville city council will not hold its usual Monday night meeting. All members of the council have made reservations for the annual banquet Wednesday night at the Hotel Abraham Lincoln, at which Governor Adlai Stevenson will be speaker.

Seven hundred mayors and municipal officials are expected to attend the three day convention, at which city financing, traffic problems, housing and health problems will be discussed.

New York Stock Market

New York, Oct. 10.—(P)—The major part of the stock market was lower today, but there were scattered islands of strength.

Steels and motors were down while rails were mixed.

Lower were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, Schenley Industries, Westinghouse and U. S. Gypsum.

On the upside at times were Good-year, Lockhead, Distillers Corp., Seagrams, and Dome Mines.

Trading in the bond market was quiet and prices mixed.

General chairman for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Henley, who arranged a varied program, starting with an auction sale in the afternoon on the school grounds. Dinner will be served at 5 p. m.

Entertainment will be furnished in the evening by the men of the P.T.A. who will put on a show in the auditorium; by the Spiritual Harmonizers; and by a group of junior high school students, under the leadership of James Waltz. There will be a Halloween spook room and square dancing in the gymnasium.

Funds raised by this event will be used to expand and improve the facilities used by the children at Washington school. The excellent playground equipment was purchased with money made at the fun frolic last year. Because of the advantage offered by this equipment, a summer recreation program was carried on at the school for eight weeks this summer. An average of 250 children attended each week. Many of the children who used the playground equipment were from other wards.

The public is invited to this year's fun frolic.

Former Local-Reporter Has Book Published

Wayne Gard, former reporter on the Journal Courier staff, is the author of "Frontier Justice," a new book published by the University of Oklahoma Press. The book relates how frontiersmen achieved order before they had formal law and covers the period from 1836 to the close of the century.

Gard, whose father was born in a log cabin on the prairie, was given a Rockefeller Foundation grant to gather material for the book. He has had two previous works published, "Book Reviewing" in 1927 and "Sam Bass," a biography of the noted train robber, in 1936. Motion picture rights to the latter were sold to Republic Productions.

A graduate of Illinois college in 1921, Gard took advanced work in journalism at Northwestern university, where he received a master's degree. He taught high school subjects for three years at Rangoon, Burma, and later was staff writer for the Chicago Daily News and for the Des Moines Register and Tribune, as well as assistant editor of Vanity Fair.

Gard is a former chairman of the Grinnell college department of journalism, and since 1933 has been an editorial writer for the Dallas Morning News. He has contributed articles to the American Mercury, Current History, Vanity Fair, The Nation, New Republic, and The North American Review. He is a member of the Texas Institute of Letters and the Texas State Historical association. Last year he was elected an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary.

To Give Aptitude Tests Dec. 3 For Naval Reserve

A college education with all expenses paid and a Navy or Marine Corps commission may be secured by Illinois World War II veterans or recent peacetime ex-servicemen who meet requirements, the Illinois Veterans' commission announced Monday.

The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program will be conducted in 25 cities in the state. Purpose is to select young men for training as junior officers for the line and staff of the regular Navy and Marine Corps.

To be eligible a candidate must be not less than 17 nor more than 21 years of age on July 1, 1949. For veterans a provision has been made to permit those to apply who will not have reached their 25th birthday by July 1 in the year in which they can normally expect to finish a four year college course.

Veterans who meet requirements and pass the tests will have an opportunity to enroll in the fall of 1950 in one of the 32 colleges and universities in the nation for a four-year course. The government will pay the cost of tuition, fees, textbooks and provide uniforms and retainer pay at the rate of $600 a year while in college.

Three Illinois schools are listed among the group. They include the Illinois Institute of Technology at Chicago, the University of Illinois at Urbana and Northwestern University at Evanston.

Applications must be received by the Navy Department by Nov. 12. Examinations in the form of aptitude tests will be given at approximately 29 high schools in Illinois.

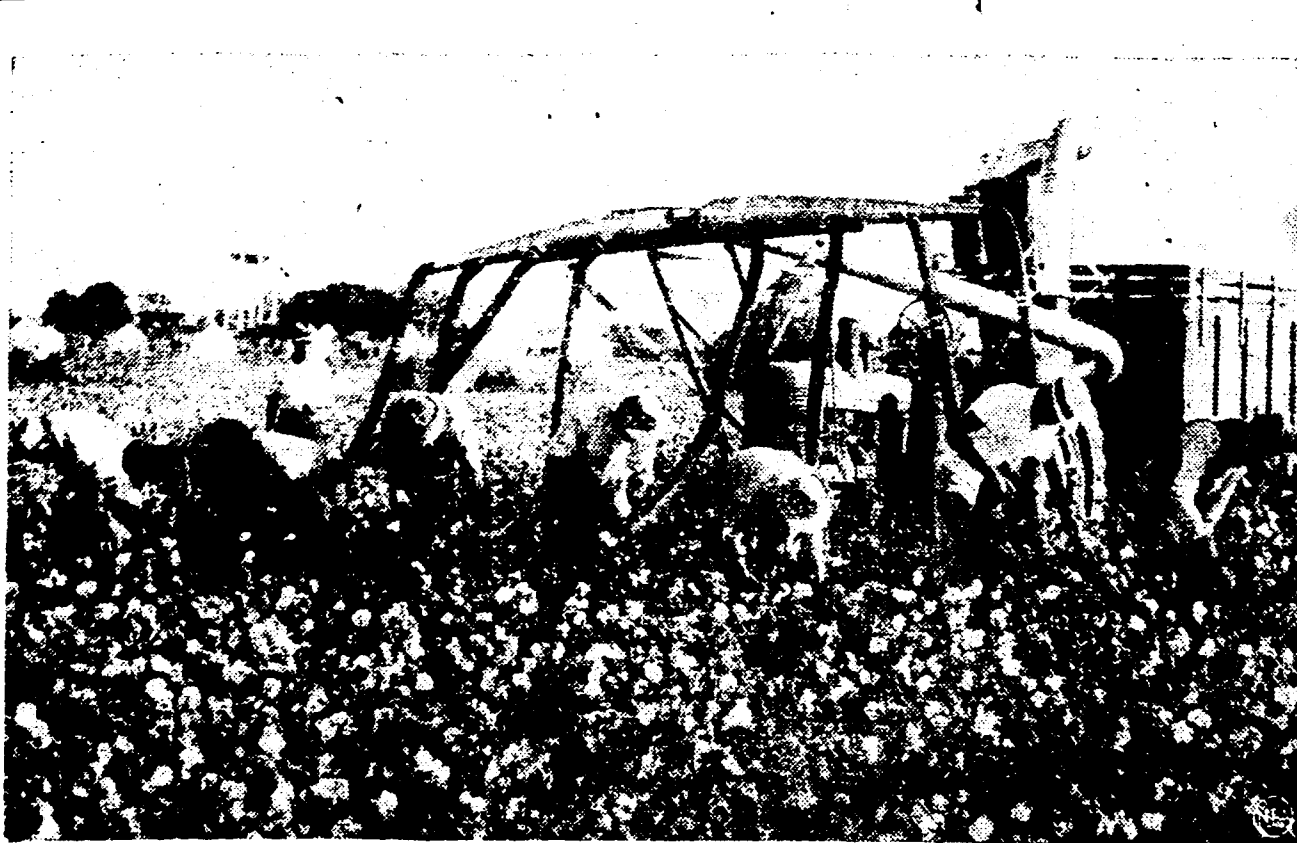

Further information regarding the Navy College program can be obtained at any of the 66 offices of the Illinois Veterans' commission.

In Morgan and Scott counties veterans can receive information and assistance at the service office located at 6-7 Morrison Block in Jacksonville or on Wednesdays in the court house in Winchester.

Discharged After 4 Years In Navy

Arthur C. Pearson, 242 Caldwell street, returned Saturday from the east coast where he was honorably discharged after four years in the U. S. Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Pearson.

Pearson served as a fireman on the USS Providence, a cruiser with the Mediterranean fleet, and after it was decommissioned he was assigned to the USS Albany, based at Norfolk, Va. He enlisted in the Navy when he was 17 years old.

NEW HELP FOR COTTON PICKERS—This new semi-mechanical cotton picker, being demonstrated at West Memphis, Ark., can gather in 3200 pounds of cotton a day. With the aid of eight compressed air suction tubes, the operators draw the cotton from the boll. The cotton is then deposited in the wagon behind the tractor and taken directly to the gin. Since the pickers do not have to drag a heavy bag of cotton behind them, the new machine greatly speeds the picking process.

Social Events

Linda Sue Putnick Honored at Birthday

Little Linda Sue Putnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Putnick, celebrated her third birthday anniversary Saturday afternoon at a lawn party given by her mother at their home, 232 East Pennsylvania avenue.

The table was centered with a large birthday cake and a music box, which played 'Happy Birthday'. Pink and green was the color scheme for the decorations and refreshments. Shmoo, gingerbread boys and balloons were given as favors.

Games were played, with prizes being won by Alma Kay Webster, Sammy Schultz, Jimmy Bond and Patty Ryan.

Other guests were Pamela McKean, Larry Reed, Janet Crocker, Joseph Davidson, Tony Gudis, Wilmar Losch, Charlotte Crocker, Beverly Richards, Janie Carol Cline, Bernice Cohen, Joanna Smith, Mickey Ryan, Richard Pessina, Linda Sue Putnick, the guest of honor, and Mrs. Louis Pessina, godmother.

Bob Voigts, Wildcat Mentor, Rates Gopher, Ohio State Tilt Even

Chicago, Oct. 10.—(P)—Coach Bob Voigts, whose Northwestern eleven lost to Minnesota, 21-7, last Saturday, rates as a toss-up the pivotal Big Ten football battle between the Gophers and Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio, next Saturday.

"Just flip a coin to pick the winner," Voigts today told the Herald-American quaterback meeting, "but it's pretty nice to be playing at home."

While the Gophers successfully launched their conference campaign by belting Northwestern, Ohio State's Buckeyes tied Southern California, 13-13, dominating the game statistically.

Voigts was cautious in evaluating Minnesota and Ohio State, whose Columbus clash may not only settle a Rose Bowl date, but also the conference championship now that Michigan's cloak of invincibility has been shredded by Army.

Impressed By Ohio's Speed

"I'm a little impressed by Ohio's speed centering around such backs as Hamilton, Morrison and Krall," said Voigts. "Minnesota is a big football team, though, and a pretty good football team."

Asked to compare Minnesota's speed to the Gophers' speed, Voigts said: "I'll take Tennessee. He did a magnificent job against us last Saturday. Tennessee is a fine player, but it was Tennessee who really caused us trouble."

The Ohio-Minnesota collision, Voigts conceded, will be "a really neat game."

AFL Annual Meet Endorses Truman Fair Deal Program

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 10.—(P)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson pledged anew today that the Navy will continue to have an "essential and honorable role" in the nation's armed forces.

The AFL delegates, before winding up their annual meeting, elected 76 year old William Green to his 26th straight term as federation president. All other top AFL officers also were re-elected without opposition.

The delegates gave a blanket endorsement to major proposals of the Truman administration's fair deal plan. They shouted support for such proposed legislation as National Health Insurance and expanded social security and jobless pay programs.

Delegates put repeal of the Taft-Hartley law down as their primary task for the future, saying in a policy statement:

"If the 81st congress persists in its refusal to act affirmatively, we are prepared again to take our appeal to the people of this country and to make Taft-Hartley repeal the paramount issue of the 1950 congressional election campaign."

ESTIMATE COTTON CROP

Washington, Oct. 10.—(P)—The agriculture department today estimated this year's cotton crop at 13,446,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This is 503,000 bales more than the 14,943,000 bales forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's crop of 14,868,000 bales and with the ten-year (1938-47) average of 11,306,000 bales.

TRY A CLASSIFIED AD

Old Professor Drops Horsehide For Pigskin

New York, Oct. 10.—(P)—The old professor was a little early as he ambled into the classroom. A preamble, you might call it. The place was practically deserted. Only two members of the Monday morning class of football coaches were there, shuffling their feet impatiently.

Old professor—Good morning, gentlemen. Yes, I know, I know. There were quite a few here last week when there among the better teams, is it? I was unavoidably detained. The world series, you know. I picked the Yankees got through knocking them down.

Anyhow, next week we'll expect a banner attendance. It was nice of you gentlemen to show up, and I won't keep you long. Mr. Sauer, you know who will stop Oklahoma now, have quite a winning streak going. Minnesota has some toughies left, don't you? Two straight, isn't it? George Sauer, Navy—Yes, sir, it is. The Panthers are beginning to claw in the first quarter as Duke did to them Saturday, and then fight back Tulane this week. Or maybe we to win. Many clubs would have folded under similar conditions. Our terms meet, and I have an idea it's spelled the difference. I'm proud going to be close.

Notre Dame, in fact, is in a position to do a lot to straighten out the national picture before the season ends, as it will meet several teams which right now are riding very high. Tulane for one, of course, and North Carolina, and Southern Methodist. I didn't mean to keep you gentlemen while I was doing a little sum ball world, but I have noticed that the cream already has started to rise, the wheat is being separated from the chaff, the corn from the cobs and all that sort of thing. Good day, and thank you for being.

What do you think of Army, Mr. present.

Former Michigan State Coach Dies

Philadelphia, Oct.—(P)—John Farrell Macklin, former Michigan State College football coach, died today at his apartment at Green Hills Farms in the Philadelphia suburb.

Macklin, a star at the University of Pennsylvania during his college football days, coached Michigan State (then known as Michigan Agricultural College) from 1911 through 1915. The college perpetuated his name in Macklin Field on the campus of the school at East Lansing, Mich.

Macklin retired in 1915 after coaching Michigan State to an undefeated season. He said he was quitting "while still ahead."

Miscues Played Big Part In Illinois Grid Decisions Last Week

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—(P)—split the uprisings on nine of 10 conversion tries. Maxey made six in a row before missing.

West Rockford's 41-6 triumph over Freeport was featured by a similar exhibition. End Don Levisay of the Warriors was wide on his first point after touchdown but made all five later attempts.

The final gun sounded as quarterback Don Zorn was suacking one yard for the touchdown that gave Forrest a 12-12 draw with Herscher. A line buck for the conversion failed.

Unbeaten Rock Island sealed the doom of the Davenport, Iowa, Imps in the second minute of their 7-0 game before 11,000 spectators at Davenport. End Joe Collier went across for the only score after taking a 52-yard aerial from quarterback Rusty Burwell.

At least three perfect records were spoiled by defeats largely because of fumbly attacks.

In bowling 33-00 to Moline, East Moline's Hilltoppers set up the winners' first four touchdown drives by bobbling the ball twice inside their own 20 yard line. The Hilltoppers had won their first three starts.

Previously undefeated East Aurora outgained Elgin but lost 14-6 after surrendering pigskin possession five times on fumbles. Ronny Weisner, Elgin quarterback, helped keep the Aurorans on their heels by averaging 52 yards on four punts as 7,200 fans looked on at Elgin.

Gilman In First Loss

Gilman suffered its initial loss when Flanagan turned two Gilman miscues into springboards for touchdowns and an 18-14 victory.

Peoria Spalding got started to a 19-6 triumph when end Phil Lawless and a teammate smothered a Peoria Central punt and Lawless fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. On the ensuing kickoff, guard Pat Manning of Spalding grabbed his own team's boot on Central's 32-yard stripe for another six pointer.

A pair of blocked kicks paved the way for the two touchdowns that gave Pittsfield's Saukies a 13-12 decision over Rockhouse in an important Illinois Valley League tilt.

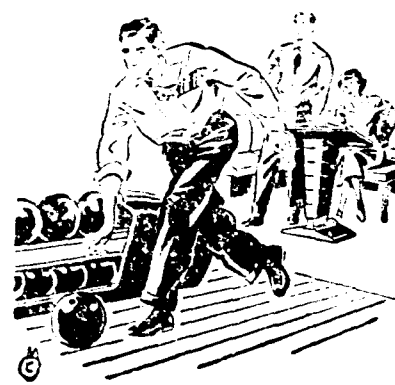

An argument frustrated a Christopher touchdown opportunity as Johnson City came out on top 14-7. When Christopher players protested an out of bounds ruling too viciously, officials penalized Christopher 15 yards back to the Johnson City 19 and the Christopher offensive thrust bogged down.

Wally Steffen Hits Stride

On the brighter side, halfback Wally Steffen of Roxana flashed the form that won him individual high scoring honors last year. He collected four touchdowns trips as Madison succumbed, 56-13. He has a 60-point bag for four games and is in the running again this season.

Normal community fans were treated to a fine placekicking exhibition as the Ironmen routed Minouk, 69-0. Freshman Jim Maxey

Irish Lead In Grid Poll; Army Is Second

New York, Oct. 10.—(P)—Notre Dame is the top college football team, the experts decided today in the second Associated Press national poll of the season.

But the Irish landed the No. 1 spot by only a slim margin of 30 points over Army, which polished off last week's leader—Michigan—in a 21-7 upset Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Michigan, which received 34 first place votes a week ago, didn't get a single one this time, but the sports editors and sportscasters still thought enough of the Wolverines to give them enough other ballots to land them in the top 10—in seventh place to be exact.

Notre Dame, which brushed aside Purdue Saturday, 35-12, to remain among the undefeated and untied, collared 67 first place votes and a total of 1,489 points.

Army Is Second

Army, which was seventh in the first poll, was right behind with 1,459 points. The Cadets got 58 first place ballots, as 172 sports writers and broadcasters took part in the poll.

Only 80 voted last week, because of primary interest in the close Pennsylvania wins in the National and American leagues, and the world series.

The third, fourth, fifth and sixth place teams last week—Oklahoma, Tulane, Minnesota, and North Carolina, re-

Routt Sextet Leads 2-C Grid Conference; Plays Away Thursday

The jet-propelled Routt Rockets—winningest football team in Jacksonville—blazed through the half-way mark of their six-man football chart with a 3-0 record that puts them out front in the five-team 2-C conference.

The Stroud-coached east-siders have scored top-sided victories over Arenzville, Franklin and Meredosia to date. The only club they've missed meeting on the abbreviated gridiron this season is Chandlerville. Coach Roy Sarff's Comets won't be side-stepped for long by the locals. Paul Stroud takes his club to Chandlerville for a conference struggle this Thursday night.

Meredosia is second in league standings with a 2-1 average. The Indians have lost only to Routt, and own wins over Franklin and Chandlerville. Arenzville and Franklin are tied for third with 1-2 cards and Chandlerville trails with 0-2.

Joe Treat's Franklin Flashes, with the addition of Bill Rawlings to the backfield, will probably present the biggest obstacle to the Routt gang in their drive towards the league crown.

Rawlings paced Franklin to its first conference win last Thursday when he intercepted three Arenzville passes and turned them into Flash touchdowns. He was slow starting because of a bad ankle and sat on the sidelines while his club lost to Meredosia in the first game of the season. He played against Routt two weeks ago but apparently hadn't yet reached top form. Franklin also boasts a non-conference victory over Chandlerville giving Coach Treat a complete season's record of 2-2.

Loneragan Leads Scoring

Routt Halfback Sonny Loneragan—among the leaders in conference scoring—has been on light duty for the past two weeks, Paul Stroud reports. He was used as a spot runner against Meredosia here last Thursday and managed to limp across for two tallies, enough to keep his average up.

Loneragan won't do any heavy work in scrimmage this week and will not be used extensively against Chandlerville, Stroud disclosed. Paul Saner—block busting fullback—is back in action after a two-week lay-off and Danny Whalen, 135 pound speedster, has also returned to action. "Hinky" Henry who started his first season of football as a center, was shifted to the backfield when Loneragan, Saner and Kennedy were decommissioned and adapted himself to his new job so well that he'll be used as a ball-toter exclusively. Jim Flynn, 220 pounder, fills Henry's shoes at center ably.

Routt will be facing a rough and ready sextet when they move to Chandlerville Thursday night. Paced by P. Marcy, hard running quarterback, the Comets have caused lots of trouble in conference games to date though their record shows no wins.

Arenzville At Meredosia

Arenzville journeys to Meredosia Thursday to settle an important question in league ranking. Verdie Altizer's six-manners are paced by Don Wessler, 190 pound fullback who shares the conference scoring lead with Loneragan at six touchdowns each. Joe Newman, another high-scorer, will bulwark the Indian defenders. Newman turned in a sparkling ball-lugging performance against the Stroudmen last week. Howard Savie's Dosh bunch also boasts a sharp passing attack which features Dick Simon doing the pitching and Nortrup the catching.

Statistics Show Statistics Aren't To Be Trusted

Atlanta, Oct. 10—(P)—If you're one of those customers who think statistics mean something in a football game, quit thinking.

Statistics too often tell as much about a game as coaches do before the game, and coaches tell nothing worth listening to.

The 1949 football season is barely rid of the World Series and look what's already happened to the statistics minded.

Navy opened the season with a great statistics victory over Southern California. The Middies ran up 19 first downs to 15 for Southern California, they gained a whopping 405 yards to 354 for the Californians.

You wonder how a team could lose with such power and production. But Navy lost and did it without a doubt—Navy, 20; Southern California, 42.

Notre Dame and Indiana must have had an awful gallop—in mid-field. Down on the goal line through Indiana was almost spavined.

Both teams got 12 first downs but Notre Dame followed through with seven touchdowns for a 49-6 victory.

Minnesota U. Head Opposes Rose Bowl Pact With West

Minneapolis, Oct. 10—(P)—President James M. Morrill of the University of Minnesota still is opposed to the Rose Bowl pact between the Western and Pacific Coast conferences, he said tonight.

Minnesota and Illinois were the only two conference members voting against the pact when it was instituted four years ago. It has one more year to run and Dr. Morrill said he would "do all in my power to see that it is not renewed."

The Minnesota proxy repeated some of his previously voiced objections to the pact whereby the Big Ten titlist meets the West Coast champion in an annual tilt.

The intersectional contest puts greatly added pressure on teams and coaches; the contest has failed to better relations of the Western colleges in Pacific Coast areas, and it dims Big Ten prestige because, prior to the signing of the pact, the conference stood adamant against post-season games.

By Bob Merris

Paul Stroud, in his second year of high school coaching, is well on his way towards an undefeated season with the Routt six-man football machine. The Rockets have whipped everything in the newly formed 2-C conference except Chandlerville. Thursday night's test there should tell the story.

Should the upcoming plus two chapters end on the happy Horatio Alger note, the Rockets will be the first Jacksonville football team to end its way through an unblemished season in many moons. We don't have the information at our fingertips and are too busy to check up, but rather believe Routt was the last local bunch to turn the trick and that likewise with a six-man outfit in 1943.

Mac Wenskunas, ex-U. of I. Rose Bowl star and now football coach at Quincy college, would do well to keep in the good graces of Routt mentor Stroud. With another year of seasoning, which they'll get under the diminutive local tutor, some of the east-side youngsters should be ready to go bigger time.

Wenskunas is a former high school grid pupil of Al Miller who taught him at Georgetown, Ill.

Quincy college athletics were bolstered considerably by the enrollment of Connie Hanley this fall. Hanley, who paced three Routt basketball teams to state distinction, transferred from Tulane where he had plied his hardwood talents for two collegiate seasons.

Hanley indicated, when asked why he made the change, that he had heard the duck and puddle story and decided to jump in more shallow water. Nevertheless, he broke into the first 10 with Tulane's green wave as a sophomore and when the Louisianans wound up among the top five college basketball teams in the nation it landed Hanley a position with the 50 best amateur basketball players in the United States. Yes, he'll probably make Quincy's traveling squad.

VALLEY ACE

Jim Thurston, 160 pound halfback on Jerseyville high school's Illinois Valley football conference entry, is one of the reasons why the Panther eleven is rated tops this season. Thurston paced his club to a 24-47 league victory over Carollton Friday night with a brilliant 65 yard scoring dash. He has other long scoring jaunts of 95 and 60 yards to his credit. Jerseyville is currently resting on top of the Ivy pile with a 2-0 record.

DIXIE SEEKS MENTOR POST

New York, Oct. 10—(P)—Dixie Walker, released by the Pittsburgh Pirates, is shopping around today for a managerial berth. The veteran flycatcher is reported interested in the vacant Cincinnati job but probably would settle for a Triple A connection.

When prairie dogs see a snake enter one of their holes, they quickly rake dirt into the hole and entomb the snake alive.

Yanks, Bums Await Fat Series Checks

New York, Oct. 10—(P)—The winning Yankees and the losing Dodgers began scattering for their homes today to await fat world series checks from Commissioner Chandler. Yankee officials also began the painful task of returning some $700,000 to fans who bought tickets to unplayed sixth and seventh games at the Stadium.

Although exact figures will not be known for several weeks, it is estimated that each full-share Yankee will receive close to $5,800 for the part he played in humbling the National Leaguers, and that each Brooklyn thrower simply didn't have it.

Hockey All Stars Trim Maple Leafs

Toronto, Oct. 10—(P)—The National Hockey League's 1948-49 All Stars tonight trimmed the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-1, before 13,815 fans at the Maple Leaf Gardens. The game produced $17,261 for the NHL players' pension fund and $8,360 for Toronto charities.

Bob Goldham of the Chicago Black Hawks, chosen as an extra to help bring the 12-man All Star squad up to strength, led the All Stars to their third successive triumph in the annual game, inaugurated three years ago.

Loss of the play-off in five games, and especially the final sad rout of his strong-arm young pitchers by a Yankee club of only moderate power,

Tulane-Irish Tussle Will Be Week's Attraction

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 10—(P)—One of Tulane's problems against Notre Dame's football team next Saturday will be the constant possibility that none of the Irish backs will be carrying the ball.

The old end-around play is an ancient maneuver, but for Notre Dame it's practically a sure thing for nine or 10 yards. That's because the carrier is a 245-pound pillar of muscle, Leon Joseph Hart of Turtle Creek, Pa.

The six-foot, four-inch right end replaced left end Jim Martin on the play last season. Martin had been effective, but now he's a tackle.

Notre Dame used the old-limer sparingly last year, but Hart plowed around the flank four times for an average gain of 9.8 yards. He's tried it four times already this season for a 9-yard average and one touchdown.

CONNIE MACK BEGINS PLANNING FOR 1950

Philadelphia, Oct. 10—(P)—Connie Mack began laying the groundwork today for the plan he hopes will bring him an American League pennant in 1950. He signed a working agreement with Buffalo in the Triple-A International League.

Illinois College Only Local Eleven In Action This Coming Weekend

The wailing wall is lined three deep with Jacksonville football coaches after their clubs sustained decisive defeats in the hands of grid enemies last weekend.

Illinois college, Jacksonville high school and ISD all took it on the chin. The Blueboys and Crimson losses were conference affairs while the Tigers, who journeyed to Waverly, were whipped in an independent struggle.

Jacksonville high school freshman-sophomore football coaches Hal Wimberly and Farrel Patterson announced last night that their undefeated yearling eleven will tangle with a Roodhouse frosh-soph eleven on the JHS turf tonight. Kickoff time is 7 p.m. The local youngsters boast wins over Roodhouse and Winchester so far this season.

Of the three eleven only Illinois college will attempt to climb back into the win column this upcoming weekend. Al Miller will motor his Hilltop players to Eureka where they'll try to unbalance their 1-1-1 season's record and make it 2-1-1 in an arc-lighted Saturday game.

The Crimson and Tigers are idle. Seven Blueboy Regulars Hurt

Illinois College Coach Al Miller has good cause to bemoan his plight. While JHS and ISD elevens came out of their games with a whole skin, Miller saw seven of his starting 11 footballers carried from the North Central fray here Saturday afternoon. Several of the injured will not be in condition to play this weekend.

Sam Spink, who has been playing hide and seek with a knee injury all season, suffered a relapse with the joint and is probably out for the season. Spink's loss leaves a gaping hole at left tackle, especially since Bob Brand, his capable replacement, also had to quit when a wartime wound flared up.

George Florence, guard, was hurt and may not make the Eureka trip. Don Longer, captain and end, is limping with a sore knee. Bill Mathews who dislocated his right shoulder against Principia two weeks ago, might be back in uniform. Backfield Was Atomized

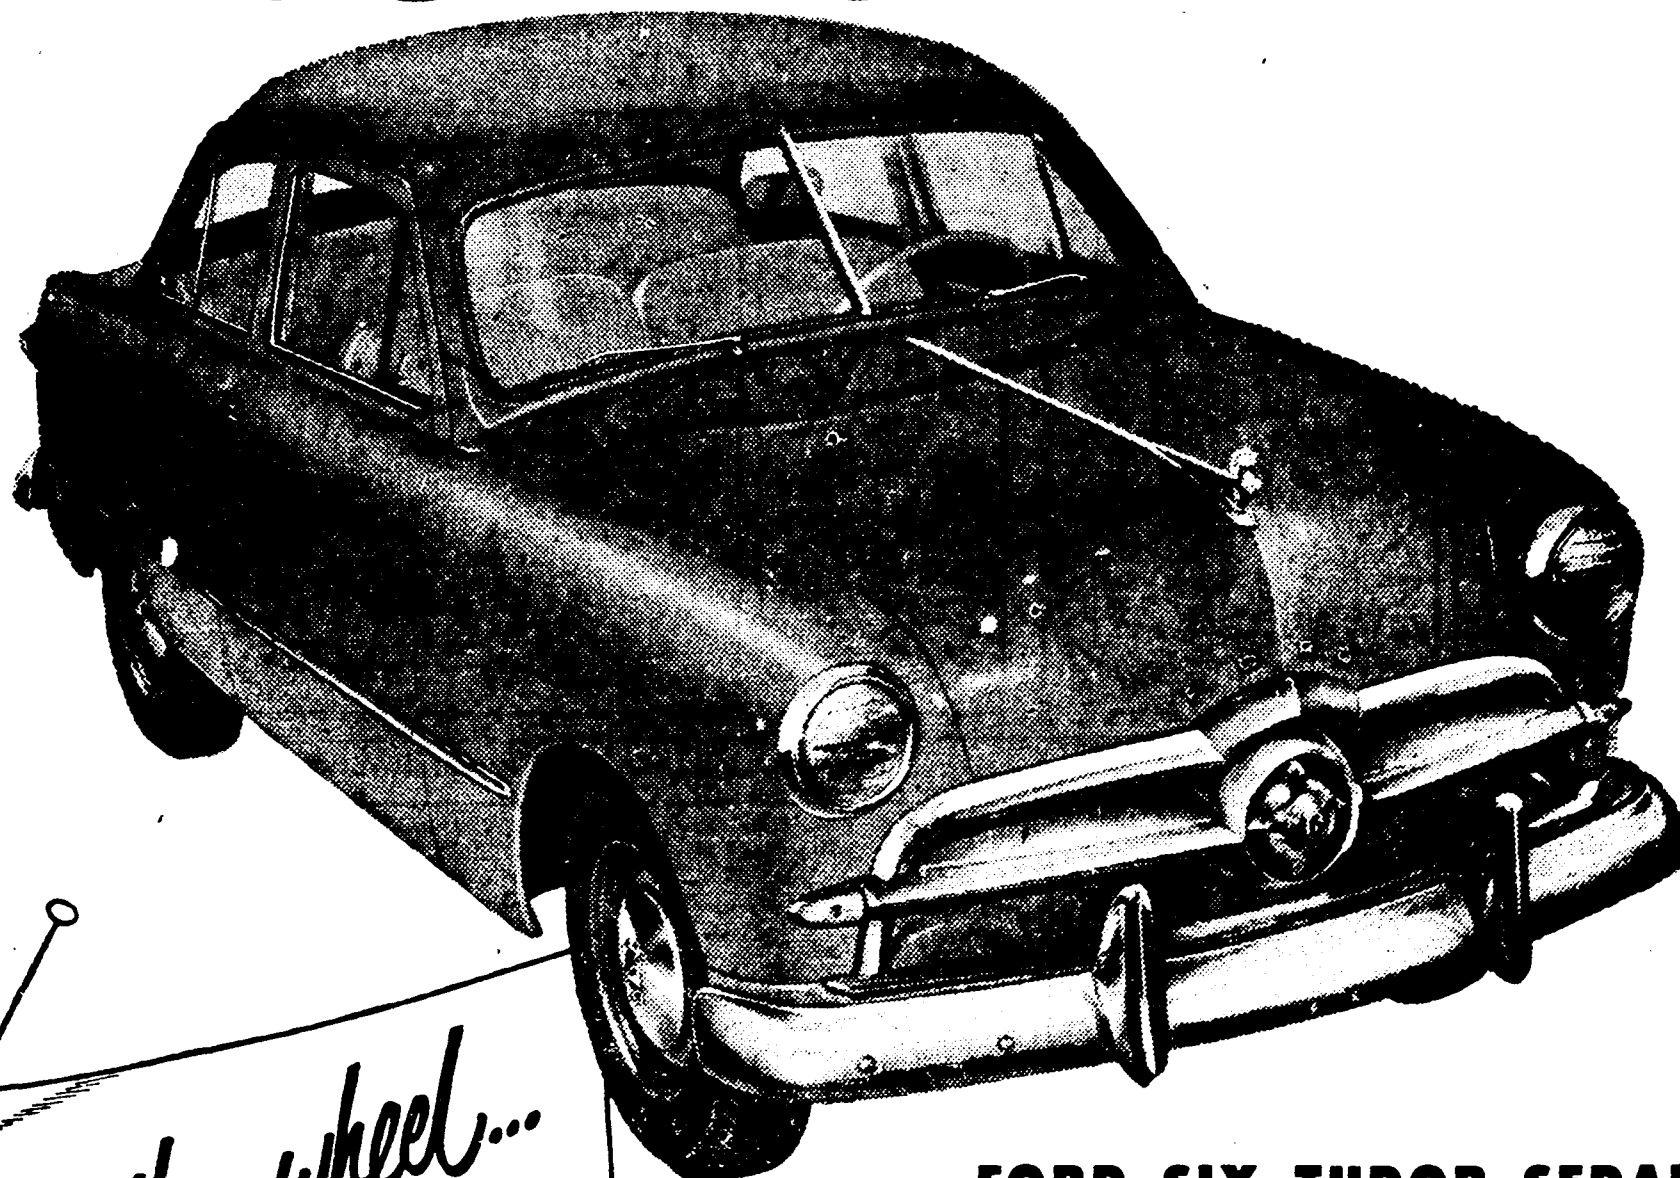

If the line suffered, the backfield was atomized. Of the first five Blueboy backs, four were knocked unconscious, plus injuries. Don Smith, right halfback, complains of rib hurts. Fullback Bill Gross is on crutches with a shin ailment. John DeLaPaz's chronically bad ankle was agitated and Dave Billings is limping with muscle bruises. Miller stands a good chance of losing two or three of these boys for the Eureka game.

Only quarterbacks Bob Grove and Bob Scheller remain uninjured on the Blueboy capable ball-carrier roster.

From the high school camps coaches report that all's well and the boys are in for some stiff workouts the next two weeks. Bob Kraushaar is grooming his Crimson for an invasion of Rushville Oct. 21 and Art Yates is prepping his Tiger eleven for a date with Kincaid the same night.

It takes only a nickel's worth of electricity to move a barrel of crude oil 1400 miles through pipelines.
